

JUDGE MILLER EXPECTED HOME IN NEXT WEEK

Nomination Confirmed by United States Senate, He is Returning to Take up Work

FACES HEAVY CALENDAR

Federal Court Business in North Dakota Has Piled up During Amidon's Illness

Andrew Miller, whose appointment as United States District Judge for North Dakota, was confirmed by the United States Senate in executive session late yesterday afternoon, is expected to return to Bismarck next week. Mr. Miller, it was expected, would confer with the Department of Justice before leaving Washington and perhaps take the oath of office. He planned to stop off at Chicago to visit his son and likely will stop in Fargo to confer with court officials and to go over the calendar.

The federal court calendar, which Judge Miller will handle, is crowded. Because of the illness of Judge Amidon and the difficulty of getting other federal judges to hold long terms of court in North Dakota, there is a mass of business accumulated. Many persons are said to have been in jail for months because of the fact that there has been no court session to dispose of their cases.

Under the terms of the bill which created the judgeship in North Dakota, Mr. Miller will be known as associate district judge until the retirement of Judge Amidon when he becomes the only federal judge in the state. The appointment as federal judge is for life, at a salary of $7,500 a year.

Other Appointments
A thorough reorganization of the court machinery in North Dakota is expected to follow. The appointment of M. L. McElroy as United States District Attorney and James Shea as U. S. Marshal are expected to come soon according to word from Washington. They will replace the present Democratic office-holders.

The position of federal judge is not the first public office which Mr. Miller will have held. He had minor offices in Iowa as a young man before coming to North Dakota and was Attorney General of the state for two terms. Mr. Miller was one of the organizers of the Commercial Club of Bismarck and an active worker in that organization many years ago. He has headed the law firm of Miller, Zuger and Tilton here for many years.

Says Charges Groundless
Alfred Zuger, who returned from Washington last night, said that the rumors of the opposition to Mr. Miller have created the impression in North Dakota that the fight was taken more seriously in Washington than it really was. He asserted that the opponents were unable to prove their charges and that the fact that they failed to do so rebounded greatly to the credit of Mr. Miller in the eyes of the senators. The fight of the opponents did not arouse a great deal of comment there, he said, except that one Democratic newspaper used the charge brought as a means of taking a rap at President Harding. The fact that the sub-committee headed by Senator Cummins of Iowa, one of the leading progressive senators, after several sittings reported favorably to the full judiciary committee and that Senator Knute Nelson, veteran Minnesota senator, sat in at the latter hearings and gave the report of the judiciary committee to the senate recommending Mr. Miller, were regarded by Mr. Zuger as complete vindication of Mr. Miller and a high compliment to him.

HOWARD TAKES KENYON'S SEAT?

Reported President of Farm Bureau is Agreed Upon

Washington, Feb. 3.—James R. Howard, Iowa, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, has been agreed upon to succeed Senator W. S. Kenyon, Iowa, newly appointed judge of the eighth federal judicial circuit, according to reports here.

"If the office is offered to me, I shall consult my wife and the executive board of the federation and I shall go wherever I can give the greatest service," he said, just before leaving.

SOO LINE PASSENGERS SHOWN FINE TIME ABOARD HALTED TRAIN

Passengers of the North Soo train, which was held in the snowdrifts near Tuso, northern McLean county, didn't have a complaint to offer when they reached Bismarck this morning.

Their sojourn on the train was mighty pleasant, made so by the efforts of Charles Crepo, conductor, others of the crew and the passengers, especially the women. The train hit the drifts which stopped it Wednesday, and was unable to reach Bismarck that night. The drifts, were broken through yesterday and the train after battling snow all the way arrived in Bismarck this morning.

Provisions were obtained from the town and meals served on the train. The women kept a coffee pot boiling and hot coffee was available at all times.

The North Soo left Bismarck soon after it arrived this morning. The South Soo also went out on time, all train service being restored after the storm.

FREIGHT RATES CUT NECESSARY HOOVER ASSERTS

Says that Decrease and Resumption of Railway Building Would be Great Aid

WOULD HELP BUSINESS

Says that Although Railroad Earnings Are Very Low Situation Would be Helped

Washington, Feb. 3.—Reduction of freight rates and resumption of railroad expansion are the two sources from which the country may get its strongest impulses toward economic betterment, Secretary Hoover declared today. He appeared as a witness in the Interstate Commerce Commission investigation of transportation charges. The first, he said, depends on a reduction of operating costs and the second on restoration of railway credit.

Transportation earnings now "perilously close to bond interest," Mr. Hoover said, make it impossible for the commission to give "immediate" important rate relief, but he declared that improving conditions would allow downward revision during the present year.

Would Reduce Basic Rates
When such revisions were made, he said, the commission should apply them first to the primary basic commodities—agricultural products, coal, metals and timber—even if passenger fares, class rates and less than carload shipments had to be charged more to protect railroad revenues. This course should be adopted, he argued, because the series of horizontal percentage increases by which the rates were advanced had distorted the existing fabric of commerce in the United States and "was moving industry as a whole toward its sources of raw material."

Incidentally rail wages should not be expected to go back to pre-war levels but follow downward step by step the cost of living, and the rate decreases should be so applied as to maintain railroad revenues and restore the confidence of investors in ultimate railroad earning power.

Best Aid to Enforcement
"We talk glibly of giving billions of credit to foreign countries to increase our farm exports," Mr. Hoover said. "I wish to say with all the responsibility for the statement that a billion dollars spent upon American railroads will give more employment to our people, more advance to our industry, more assistance to our farmers than twice that sum spent outside the frontier of the United States—and there will be greater security for investors."

HARDING ASKED TO ARMS MEET

President Will Witness Signing of Treaties

Washington, Feb. 3.—Plans were being made today for the attendance of President Harding at a plenary session of the armament conference next Monday to witness the signing of the treaties. To thank the delegates for their work and to participate generally in activities marking adjournment of the conference. It had been planned to adjourn the conference since the treaty was signed but the department draughtsmen said they could not have the official text of the treaty ready until Monday.

BULGARIANS WOULD HANG FORMER KING

Sofia, Feb. 3.—There is no chance of former King Ferdinand's return to Bulgaria, declares Premier Alexander Stamboulsky. Bulgaria's vigorous statesman, farmer and reformer.

"If ever Ferdinand should dare to put his foot on Bulgarian soil, the Premier told the correspondent with a tremendous thump on his desk, 'the people would rise up against him as a traitor and either hang him or thrust him into jail.'"

"No, you may tell the American people not to listen to these frequent reports of the return of Ferdinand. We have done complete penance for our sins and part of that penance has been to banish forever from our sight the faithless Ferdinand, to whom most of our sins were due."

M Stamboulsky said the Bulgarian people are filled with contempt and hatred for their former ruler, the father of the popular young King Boris.

IRISH SEEKING PART OF ULSTER IS CHARGE MADE

Sir James Craig Claims Collins Told Him in Conference of the Promise

SITUATION HELD GRAVE

Negotiations with Provisional Government Over Boundary To Continue

London, Feb. 3.—(By the Associated Press)—Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier, declared in a statement today that he had been told by Michael Collins, head of the southern Ireland provisional government, at their conference in Dublin yesterday that Collins had made a promise of bringing into the Irish Free state almost half of north Ireland.

Sir James emphasized the gravity which he attached to the hitch in the negotiations with the provisional government.

"I have to admit," he said, "that in the conversations with Mr. Collins yesterday the difficulties regarding the Ulster boundary have been revived in intensified form."

FACE RAIL STRIKE

Belfast, Feb. 3.—(By the Associated Press)—The Irish railways management and employees have failed to reach an agreement and Ulster minister of labor, J. M. Andrews, has been summoned to Dublin to renew efforts for a settlement with Joseph McGrath, minister of labor in the Dail cabinet. Negotiations collapse a general strike throughout Ireland will go into effect Feb. 15.

USED RUSE TO SEE TOWNLEY, SAYS LANGER

Explains Visit He Made to Non-partisan Chief in Jackson Jail in December

USED AN ASSUMED NAME

William Langer, former Attorney General, who engaged in a series of debates with A. C. Townley in Kansas, Nebraska and Minnesota last summer, today explained the visit he made to Townley in Jackson county, Minnesota, jail early in December. A story published in a Minneapolis paper was called to Mr. Langer's attention.

"Former County Auditor Wm. E. Vadnais, of Divide county, was in the state prison," Langer said. "I asked me to help him get out. I investigated circumstances and was convinced that Vadnais, who had been the I. V. A. chairman in Divide county, had been railroaded to prison by Nonpartisans. They had promised him suspended sentence if he pleaded guilty to charges of misuse of funds but instead put him in prison. None of Vadnais' political friends were helping him."

"Vadnais had no money and his family was in hard circumstances. I acted as his lawyer without pay. I got a writ of habeas corpus from the supreme court releasing him but Bratton threatened to push other charges and it was necessary to get him a pardon."

"I wanted Townley to use his influence to call off Nonpartisan attacks on Vadnais. I had told him during debates in Kansas that if he went to jail I was coming to see him. He said he would not let me in. So I went to a nearby town, telephoned Townley's secretary, told him I was Senator John Jorgenson, of Iowa, and that I wanted to see Townley. I went to Jackson to keep the appointment and the sheriff let me in. I spent an hour with Townley but got no definite promise and went back again to talk over Vadnais' case. We also discussed physical culture which Townley was much interested in. I did not get a definite answer from Townley but some of the opposition to a pardon disappeared and Vadnais was pardoned. I went there for attorney representation, a client, and after the interview I told the sheriff who I was."

25 DEATH TOLL IN MINE BLAST; HUNT 3 BODIES

San Francisco, Feb. 3.—The jury failed to agree and was discharged today in the second trial of a manslaughter charge of Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle in connection with the death of Miss Virginia Rappe, motion picture actress.

Foreman J. J. McElroy announced that the vote stood 2 to 10.

"There is no chance for us to agree," Mr. McElroy said, "a poll of the jury was taken to determine if they could agree on further deliberation and all emphatically said no."

Arbuckle seemed downcast at the disagreement.

Neither prosecution or defense would announce its intention regarding plans for a new trial. The case put over until Monday to be set on trial.

After the disagreement the jury returned to the jury room.

Announcement that the jury stood 10 for conviction and 2 for acquittal was made by Louis Friedman, assistant district attorney. Harry McGovern, bailiff, made the same announcement.

"We expect to try the case again," said Friedman.

San Francisco, Feb. 3.—The fate of Fatty Arbuckle early today was still in the hands of a superior court jury delegated to determine his guilt or innocence to a charge of manslaughter.

The jury retired at 9:20 o'clock last night to resume deliberations this morning. The case went to the jury at 3:42 Wednesday afternoon.

HASTINGS GIVES SELF TO POLICE AT SACRAMENTO

Sacramento, Cal., Feb. 3.—J. J. Hastings today surrendered to the police who held warrants charging three thousand dollar embezzlement from the Scandinavian American Bank of Fargo. He said he came here from Seattle, Wash., where he had been on business.

Hastings notified Governor Stephens that he would resist extradition to North Dakota. He said the charge was based on a $3,000 contribution the bank had authorized him to make to the league more than three years ago.

TWO BALLOTS TAKEN IN ELECTION OF SUCCESSOR TO POPE BENEDICT ARE INDECISIVE; SEVERAL NAMES SUGGESTED

Four Ballots a Day To Be Taken Until Pope is Chosen Instead of Two Each Day as Under Former Rule, It is Said

MAY BE POPE

Rome, Feb. 3.—(By the Associated Press)—Voting for the election of a Pope to succeed Benedict XV was begun by the conclave of the Sacred College today. Two incisive ballots had been taken up to 1 o'clock this afternoon.

Four ballots will be taken daily instead of two as has been the rule, it was learned.

CONNELL TOO LATE.
Rome, Feb. 3.—(By the Associated Press)—The steamship President Wilson bringing Cardinal Connell of Boston, to Rome will not arrive at Naples before next Monday morning. The steamship company announced today it had received a wireless message to this effect.

PASTORAL POPE LIKELY.
By NEA Service.
Rome, Feb. 3.—Well-informed persons in ecclesiastical circles here are unable to point to any one cardinal as the most probable successor to Benedict XV.

But every one in Vatican circles agrees on two points:

One—That the next pope will be an Italian.

Two—That he will be picked from among the pastoral cardinals—those in charge of various dioceses—rather than from the members of curia, or pope's council.

That the next pope will be an Italian is certain, ecclesiastical experts say, because 31 of the 61 members of the Sacred College—a majority—are of Italian birth.

Best of Prediction.
And the prediction that the next pope will be a "pastoral" cardinal is based on a careful study of the papal elections of the last two centuries.

Observation has shown Vatican observers that whenever a so-called "political" pope is elected, he is followed by a "religious" pope as a sort of reaction.

And in the same way, when a "religious" pope occupies the pontificate, he is followed by a "political" pope.

Thus Leo XIII is called "political" because of the world conditions under which he was elected.

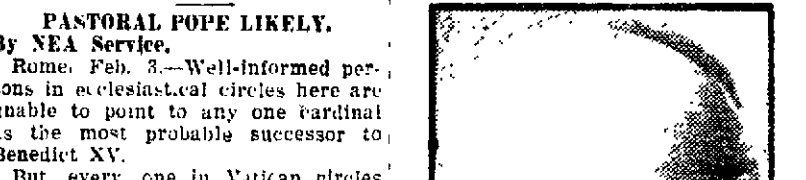

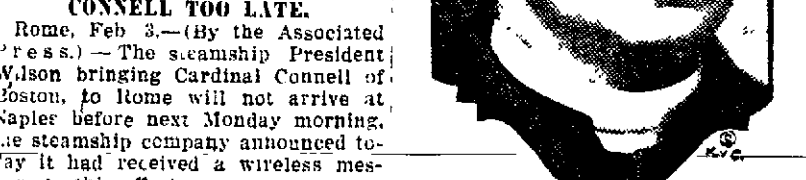

He was followed by Pius X, purely "religious" pope.

And Benedict XV quite naturally was a "political" pope, having been elevated to the pontifical seat at a time when the whole Christian world was in a turmoil.

Point to "Religious" Pope.
That's why experts predict a "religious" successor to Benedict XV.

Now, of the 31 Italian cardinals 21 are members of the curia. They live in Rome, sit on various ecclesiastical tribunals and aid the pope in governing the church.

None of these can be considered as "lovable" popes, not only because they are eliminated by the rule of "religious" and "political" succession but because all the outstanding curia members are too old to assume the burdens of the pontificate.

ARBUCKLE JURY DISAGREES IN SECOND TRIAL

Jury Stood Ten For Conviction and Two For Acquittal, Says Attorney

ARBUCKLE IS DOWNCAST

San Francisco, Feb. 3.—The jury failed to agree and was discharged today in the second trial of a manslaughter charge of Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle in connection with the death of Miss Virginia Rappe, motion picture actress.

RESCUE TEAMS WORKING IN ABANDONED MINE IN EFFORT TO FIND THREE BODIES

Gates, Pa., Feb. 3.—Twenty-five miners lost their lives in the explosion which wrecked a part of the Gates mine of the H. C. Frick Coke company yesterday, according to an official announcement today. Twenty-two bodies have been recovered. The other three were buried under a fall of slate and cannot be reached from the entries in which rescue crews have been working.

Rescue teams were sent early today to the Enderbiers mine and expected to work their way through old workings to the section of the Gates mine affected by the explosion.

KU KLUX KLAN TAKES IN MANY AT INITIATION

Austin, Tex., Feb. 3.—More than 700 candidates were initiated there last night into the Ku Klux Klan at a ceremonial north of the city. It became known today. About 1,500 persons attended the initiation.

In addition to the usual ceremonies several addresses were made, according to a newspaper man allowed to be present pointing out alleged immoral conditions existing in Austin and denouncing anti-American tendencies.

Waco, Tex., Feb. 3.—Nine hundred and thirty-seven new members were taken into the Ku Klux Klan at a meeting held last night, according to information given local papers.

LEADING MOVIE FIGURE'S DEATH A NEW MYSTERY

Revelations to Police Only Serve to Complicate Problem They Seek to Solve

ACTRESSES ARE SUMMONED

One Witness Tells of Seeing Man Hurry Away From Taylor's House Late at Night

CALL WITNESSES.
Los Angeles, Calif., Feb. 3.—Subpoenas were issued this afternoon for Miss Mabel Normand, Mary Miles Minter, Edna Purviance, motion picture actresses, and Douglas McLean, actor, and his wife, and William Davis, Miss Normand's chauffeur, to appear before the coroner's inquest tomorrow at 1:30 o'clock over the body of William D. Taylor, motion picture director, shot down in his home.

Los Angeles, Calif., Feb. 3.—A half dozen cigarette stubs offer a key to a mystery which for 24 hours has been deeper than any developed in his work by William Desmond Taylor, noted motion picture director, telling his death Wednesday night at his home here from a slayer's bullet, according to investigators.

These half-smoked remains found near the backdoor of his luxuriously appointed residence give mute evidence that some man apparently waited nervously there on the evening of the murder.

They link with statements by Mrs. Douglas McLean, wife of a motion picture actor, that on the evening of the murder she heard a shot fired and looking from the window of her home which overlooks that of Taylor saw a man emerge from the front door of Taylor's home, look back through and apparently speak, close the door and depart.

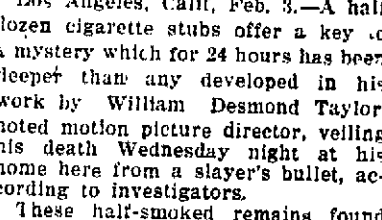

Only Deepen Mystery
Another link is a statement by employees at an oil service station nearby that within an hour prior to that time a stranger whom they described similarly asked them where W. D. Taylor lived and they directed him to the place. The crew of a street car adds information that at a time closely corresponding to that which Mrs. McLean gives for the departure of the man from Taylor's house a stranger boarded the car at a stop near the house. They describe him similarly.

These revelations only served to deepen the mystery.

Los Angeles, Feb. 3.—Revenge, jealousy, hate and unrequited love, all were considered by the police today in continuing their search for the slayer of William D. Taylor, motion picture director, whose body was found yesterday in his apartment here.

Persons questioned range from Taylor's negro house man to Mabel Normand, motion picture actress. Others prominent in the film industry whose names were brought into newspapers in connection with the film director's death were Mary Miles Minter and Edna Purviance.

The hunt was largely centered along three lines: was said, the trail of the slinking figure of a man seen around the director's apartment before and after he editors heard a shot in the night; the whereabouts of a former servant, arrested for alleged robbery of Taylor's home, and the writer of anonymous letters in which were enclosed pawn tickets for articles taken from Taylor.

WOULD REVIVE THE BALKAN FEDERATION

Sofia, Feb. 3.—Hopes of some day reviving the Balkan Federation which existed before the world war are entertained by Premier Alexander Stamboulsky.

"The catastrophe of the war," he said, "has shown the Balkan states that in union lies their strength and security. I am convinced that the people of Yugoslavia are in favor of union with us; but there are certain elements in the Serbian government that perhaps are not so sympathetic toward us."

"Our Balkan neighbors must be convinced of our good intentions for we have returned all the locomotives, coal, machinery, cattle and other property required of us. The value of this property runs into hundreds of millions of levas nominally about (19 cents each)."

3 MOVIE SHOWS CLOSED FOR TIME

Fargo, Feb. 3.—Three motion picture houses were temporarily closed for several hours last evening on account of obstructions to emergency exits.

Complaints were filed with the city attorney by George L. Tibbitt, city building inspector following an inspection of all the theaters in the city with the exception of two.

PREPARATIONS FOR ELECTION OF NEW POPE

The College of Cardinals Meets
In Secret at The Vatican
Today

60 CARDINALS LIVING

Rome, Feb. 2. The College of Cardinals which meets in secret to elect a new Pope today to elect a new Pope numbers about 70 members, but rarely is attended by more than part of the college.

There are now living about 60 Cardinals including six Cardinal-Bishops, six Cardinal-Deacons and the others Cardinal-Priests.

Cardinal Vincent Vannutelli, 1, dean of the Sacred College. Italians compose about one-half of the membership of the College with Spain next in order with seven members. England and the United States have two each with one in Canada and one in South America. The American Bishops are William Cardinal O'Connell, O'Connell, Archbishop of Boston and Dennis Cardinal Dougherty, Archbishop of Philadelphia.

The College is required to meet on the 10th day after the death of a Pope. A two-thirds vote is necessary for an election. While there is no law against the election of a layman, it has become tradition to elect the new Pope from the membership of the College of Cardinals, and it is traditional also that the Pope should be chosen from the Italian Cardinals. It is stated that this tradition has not been departed from in nearly 400 years.

The Cardinals will meet for the opening of the conclave in the Sistine Chapel where mass for the Holy Ghost will be said by the Cardinal Dean. They will then proceed with their officers and assistants to that part of the Vatican set apart for the election. This will form a secluded precinct where they will be guarded by the marshal of the conclave. Their exclusion will be strict. Communication with the outside world during the sessions of the College is possible only through a small window equipped with something like a revolving door used in office buildings in the United States. The use of this is restricted to the sending out of laundry and receiving of food and medicine.

Can't Telephone Outside.

Each Cardinal-Bishop will have three rooms and each Cardinal-Priest and Cardinal-Deacon two rooms. Telephones have been installed in the apartment of each of the Cardinals so they will be able to communicate with each other but this telephone exchange is not connected with the city exchange and there can be no telephone communication with the outside world.

The Cardinals will be walled in within the large hall of the Vatican which is divided so as to provide these small compartments. At prescribed hours twice a day the Cardinals will come together to vote, the actual balloting taking place in the Sistine Chapel. This must continue until a candidate receives more than two-thirds of the vote. The ballots are burned after each indecisive vote is taken. Large crowds gather daily in the square of St. Peter to watch the smoke of the burning ballots issue from the chimney. Failure to see the smoke at the usual time serves as a signal to the crowd that a new Pontiff has been chosen and the throng rushes inside the Basilica to await the appearance of the new head of the church to appear on a balcony and bestow his first apostolic blessing. When the new Pope is chosen he is requested to select the name by which he is to be known thereafter.

MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE LOSES

Case Against Dr. Kirby Reduced to Practising

Grand Forks, N. D., Feb. 2.—The manslaughter charge against Samuel R. Kirby of Northwood was dismissed today by Judge M. J. Englert in the Grand Forks county district court on motion of State's Attorney T. B. Elton. Mr. Elton's motion for the dismissal of the case followed the action of the district court jury in bringing in a verdict of "not guilty" in the case in which Kirby was charged with practicing medicine without a license, the verdict having been received at 10 last night.

The state's attorney pointed out to the court that in order to prove the manslaughter charge against the defendant it would first be necessary to establish the alleged fact of his having practiced medicine without a license and as a jury had now acquitted him on this charge it would be a useless waste of the taxpayers' money to attempt to do this. He therefore moved for the dismissal.

Judge Englert declared this action on the part of the state's attorney to be proper under the circumstances and ordered the dismissal of the case and release of Kirby's bondsmen.

30 YEARS DOING GOOD

Get rid of that catarrh while you can

Catarrh gets to be a habit.
For goodness sake don't get used to it.

Never be content to live on in that way—sleeping with mouth open, waking with that bad taste, coughing and spitting all day, an easy mark for colds and every epidemic of throat trouble that comes along.

Try Kondon's Catarrhal Jelly, used and esteemed for thirty years for clearing heads, soothing angry membranes and relieving Catarrh. It is a valued household remedy in thousands of American homes. Better than camphorated oil for children.

Kondon's Catarrhal Jelly is guaranteed not only by us, but by 30 years service to millions of Americans. If Kondon's doesn't do wonders for your cold, sneezing, cough, chronic catarrh, nosebleed, headache, sore nose, etc.—we'll pay your money back. On sale at all drug stores.

Avoid substitutes—make sure this signature is on the package you buy.

OIL INSPECTION COMPLAINED OF BY COMPANIES

Annual Report of Inspector Says Requirements Not Satisfac- tory To Them

LAW GENERALLY GOOD

Much dissatisfaction with the state oil inspection law has been voiced, according to the annual report of W. C. Palmer, state inspector, and T. W. Jackman, chief deputy oil inspector, filed with the governor as required by law.

"Any change should be in the form of a readjustment and in such a general manner as to adopt a system of specifications that would be in accord with the general practice throughout the country and would tend to encourage the marketing of a more uniform quality of gasoline over the entire United States, which at the present time is not being done," says Mr. Jackman, who discusses criticisms of the law but does not offer specific recommendations for changes. "This," he continued, "would enable the consumer to get greater economy in actual use and would therefore tend to conserve the available supply."

The cost of oil inspection department during the year 1921 was $26,603.24, the report shows, and the total amount collected was $2,763.15, leaving to the benefit of the state $23,938.09.

The gasoline and kerosene marketed in the state is of good quality and satisfactory to users, according to Jackman.

Says Law Is Good
While saying that the law generally works satisfactorily, Mr. Jackman says: "However, the specifications embodied in the law have been quite strongly criticized by the refiners and oil companies marketing in the state on the grounds that they require a better grade of gasoline than is essential and that they are too rigid for present refinery and marketing practice."

"If these criticisms are well founded the situation should be remedied and specifications should be adopted which from an economic standpoint are sound. They should be so devised that they will properly protect the public with regard to the quality of gasoline they will be forced to buy and at the same time will not tend to work a hardship on the refiners and marketers."

Price Compared
A statement showing gasoline tank wagon markets, shows that 16 out of 29 markets quoted a lower price than North Dakota. Freight on gasoline to Fargo is 2 cents a gallon greater than to Moorhead, Minn., across the river, the report says.

During the year 1921 there was consumed in the state 54,603,532 gallons of petroleum products, equivalent to 1,092,070 barrels of 50 gallons each, the report says. During the year the department certified to the treasurer for collection $128,368.72 gasoline tax and $87,708.81 additional taxes on gasoline that did not meet the class to which reported by oil companies. This is in addition to the inspection fees. The gasoline sold in North Dakota is generally of higher quality than in other states, the report says.

HOMEBUILDERS BUYING LEADS TO DIFFICULTY

Extreme liberality in buying as practiced by the former management of the Homebuilders' association has put the new manager, E. E. Diehl, up against the problem of settling several matters.

Claim for a large amount due the Burkholder Lumber company for cement, lime and shingles ordered, part of which order was cancelled by the former manager, has been pushed here.

PRINCIPALS IN "KIDNAPING"

Mrs. Mary Robbins

Mrs. Mary Robbins filed a complaint charging kidnapping against a nurse who took her 3-year-old son George Robbins 3rd away from their Chicago home and started with him for Mrs. Robbins' divorced husband on the coast. Police took the nurse and the child off the train at Ogden, Utah. After an appeal to the courts, Mrs. Robbins withdrew the charge and the nurse was ordered released. A Chicago judge ordered Robbins, son of George Robbins, long a vice president of Armour and Co., before him to explain alimony payments. This shows George Robbins 3rd and his mother.

GERMANS WATCH OPERATIONS OF S. OIL AGENTS

American Co. Secure Monopolies of Off Prospecting in Central European States

Berlin Feb. 2.—The increased consumption of crude oil and need of a corresponding increase in the world's production has focused attention of American interests upon European fields, and renewed efforts are being made to secure long time contracts for the development of the industry here on a large scale.

Agents of the Standard Oil company have been most active and are reported here to have secured virtual monopolies of oil prospecting and well sinking in a number of smaller central European states.

German capital has been watching the operations of the Americans with considerable concern, and it is expected in quarters close to Hitler, Stines, the most powerful of the German capitalists, whose commercial enterprises extend to all Europe that American interests will still have a monopoly of the European petroleum supply if not of the whole earth.

The Standard Oil Company has secured control of important fields in Northern Persia on a 50-year lease, but the action of the Persian administration in granting the concession has been protested by the Russian government, and also by the British minister, as incompatible with the Russian-Persian agreement of February 25, 1921, which it is claimed gave Russia prior rights.

Americans also have secured important concessions in Jugoslavia, Czechoslovakia and Rumania, under stipulations providing for investment of several millions of American dollars in development work, which these countries cannot undertake.

Negotiations have been begun between the Americans and Russian representatives for leasing the Russian fields, and putting them upon a productive basis. At the same time the Russians are seeking to secure German machinery for their oil fields, without which it is reported many of the wells must close, resulting in permanent damage to certain fields and heavy losses to the Soviet government.

Former wealthy oil owners and promoters, now Russian exiles here, have been participating in these negotiations.

The annual production of crude oil in the United States was estimated by the United States geological survey on January 18, to be now almost 500,000,000 barrels, but the report stated that the annual consumption already is beyond that mark and is still growing. It added that for some years the United States has had to import oil and with the growth in demand, its dependence on foreign oil has become steadily greater in spite of our own increase in output.

HONOR ROLL

In connection with the Honor Roll for the high school, Professor V. H. DeBoit says, "The facts concerning the high school honor roll as printed below are interesting and suggest various interpretations. Five out of eleven of the highest standings on this roll are those of students from the country schools and rural environment, one walking three miles to school twice a day after considerable work at home."

Rolls of former years show the same results. The most significant fact noted is that after the first or at the most the second year of their attendance here most of these names disappear from this roll. Why is it?

Following are the names of the students on the Honor Roll in the high school and grade schools of the city at the close of the first semester: Period Ending January 20, 1922

U. S. FIRE LOSS
IN FIVE YEARS
$1,672,722,677
Enough To Have Built 334,000
Dwellings At a Cost of $5,000, Each

New York, Feb. 2.—Three hundred and thirty-four thousand dwellings at $5,000 each, sufficient to house 1,700,000 persons, could be built with the money lost in fires in the United States from 1917 to 1921, according to figures given out today by the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

The board places the national fire loss during the five year period at $1,672,722,677, based on an examination of over 2,000 reports of fires. Matches and smoking hazards are held responsible for $800,000,000 of losses, according to the report. Next comes electricity, which caused fires costing $250,000,000, stoves, furnaces, boilers and pipes caused a loss of $200,000,000, defective chimneys and flues, $100,000,000 and "exposure," which means communicated fires, $233,999,677.

As a basis of comparison, the underwriters figure that the five-year fire losses of the nation would build $500,000 homes for the entire population of Nevada, Wyoming and Connecticut. They would erect 16,722 school houses at $160 each; or would purchase 16,722 grams of radium, the costliest of earth's products.

Sixty-seven per cent, $856,000,000, of the total loss was classed as strictly or partly preventable.

New York suffered most heavily with a loss of $164,000,000; Pennsylvania came second with $87,000,000; Illinois third with $88,000,000. Following New Jersey, with $79,000,000; Ohio with $62,000,000; Texas, $59,000,000; Massachusetts, $58,000,000; and California, $54,000,000.

Tomorrow we will have a nice assortment of cakes, pies, doughnuts, rolls, and meat pies, at the Woman's Exchange, 211 Broadway.

THE FRIVOLITY GIRL AT THE RIALTO
THEATER
Bismarck is being treated by as good a show as has ever played the city. Direct from Minneapolis where they closed a long run at the New Grand, January 28th, 1922, they are giving the people of Bismarck the chance to witness the same show that has made a reputation for itself that is envied by every organization of its kind. Despite the fact that they are unable to hang any of their scenery the show is getting over and pleasing every person who has braved the elements to attend. The comedy is fast and funny and above all it is clean and from the so-called smart or suggestiveness that sometimes is heard on the stage. Joe Barnett and Lou Coast are succeeding in every effort to make the audience smile out loud and judging from the generous applause every other member of the cast is more than holding their own.

Were it not for the fact that the company is booked to open another stock engagement soon they might be induced to make a longer stay. Many contents of much interest to the public will be run. The bill called "The Patent Office," jumps to the day when the principal offices in Washington will be filled with women executives and introduces many funny situations that are bound to arise in the year of 1999.

The Frivolity Quartette will be the feature of the bill with numerous songs, dances and everything that tends to make a night's entertainment complete.

JACK HOLT AND LILA LEE AT THE ELTINGE
"After the Show" with Jack Holt and Lila Lee is showing at the Eltinge today and tomorrow. The story was published some months ago in the Saturday Evening Post under the title "The Stage Door" and is built around an old stage-door keeper, who is one of the most human, interesting characters on the screen. An entire musical comedy is reproduced in the picture. Many show girls were employed in the scenes and it is as complete as seen on the stage. The story was written by Rita Weisman who was also author of the story "Footlights," for Elsie Ferguson's recent picture, which incidentally was one of the best pictures made the last year. In addition to "After the Show," the Eltinge program includes "Capturing Lions by Aeroplane" and an Aesop Fable. The lion picture is a real one-act thriller and was made by Major Jack Allen in Africa.

WHY ARE SOME WOMEN POPULAR?
happy, beloved and successful, while others drag out a negative existence, of no use to themselves or anyone else? Except in a few cases the answer is to be found in a state of freedom from the troubles known as "female troubles." The woman radiates cheerfulness and serenity, while the ailing one repels because of her lack of these qualities. It is not necessary, however, to harbor aches and pains, and the "blues" that make one a detriment to society. The use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought relief to such women, and given them a new lease on life.

WOULD PROMOTE STATE PRODUCTS TO OWN PEOPLE

State Federation of Clubs Considers Suggestion of Dr. Gilmore

MANY FOODS SUGGESTED

Members of a committee of the State Federation of Women's clubs are considering the promotion of a plan suggested by Dr. Melvin H. Gilmore of the State Historical society by which the virtues of some of the native products of the state may be made known to people, who are visitors within or passing between its borders. Dr. Gilmore was asked to put his suggestion in written form; and while he has suggested but one avenue, Miss Minnie Neilson and members of her committee can see a much wider field for the proposition.

"You wished me to state my idea of a plan which I mentioned to you," said Mr. Gilmore in his communication, "namely, to make a feature of serving upon the dining cars of transcontinental railways characteristic native food products. This is what I had in mind:

"Let the service of jams and jellies and relishes made from native fruits along the line of each transcontinental railway be made a feature of the dining car service on such lines. These might conceivably differ for the several transcontinental lines according to the different climatic conditions along the respective zones, as the Great Northern and Northern Pacific, the Union Pacific, and the Missouri, Kansas and Texas routes.

Suggested Products.
"For the northern routes I would suggest that jams and jellies and marmalades be served in individual jars, just as at present such commodities are served, which are made from exotic cultivated fruits, but made from native wild plums, native wild plums, native wild grapes, buffalo-berries, June-berries (saskatoons), choke cherries, pin cherries, pemba berries, native red raspberries, sand cherries, native wild black currants, etc.

"These products, characteristics of the regions traversed, could be profitably added to the ordinary commissary of the dining cars, and thus brought to the attention and acquaintance of the travellers and tourists. They are at present prime favorites to the taste of the comparatively few people who are acquainted with them. The bushes on which these fruits grow can be seen from the train windows in great numbers along the right of way of the railways. Attractive illustrated folders and leaflets could be provided, giving information about the native fruits and calling attention to them as they may be seen from the car windows, growing in their natural environment. I can see many possibilities of advertising in the use of these products as something unique and characteristic of the country and of the railway line.

For Boys and Girls Clubs.
"I think that provision of the jams and jellies could be made one of the 'projects' of the Boys' and Girls' clubs. Or, at all events, the gathering of the native fruits could be thus accomplished, and the manufactured products could be made up at certain centers under proper supervision and control, as to standardization of quality and form.

In the minds of other people who have been approached upon the proposition, the plan is given greater emphasis as applied to the auto trails that cross the state from east and west and north and south. The western end at least of the National Park trail had 186,000 people moving over it in the course of the last auto season. The Roosevelt trail also attracted its large number of tourists and the beginning of this traffic is in its infancy. It is pointed out that the tourists spend two and three days crossing the state, that they are susceptible to much better appetites than those rushing through on the railways and that the hotel dining rooms, where most of these people stop, are as susceptible to advertising as the railway dining car service. The auto tourists also get nearer to the shrubs and bushes which bear the fruit.

Miss Neilson is enthusiastic about the plan as at first proposed as it fits into one of the elements of the work

INTEREST IN STAGE CAREER WANES AND MAUD ADAMS TURNS INVENTOR

MAUD ADAMS

BY RUTH ABELING
Schenectady, N. Y., Feb. 3.—It was a red brick building on a side street here, in appearance a cross between a store-house and a church, in which I found what Maud Adams, of "Peter Pan" fame, calls her "studio."

There are tin signs, "Garage," "Cars Repaired," on the outside. No hint of Maud Adams, former Broadway headliner.

It was on the top floor of an old-fashioned house on another side street that I found Miss Adams, her secretary, Miss Boynton, and her housekeeper.

With the death of her close friend and manager, Charles Frohman, who went down on the Lusitania, Miss Adams' interest in her own stage career waned. Of late she has been rotating between the red brick studio-laboratory and her top-floor apartment.

She devotes practically all of her time experimenting with light and color with a view to movie reproduction in colors.

Occasionally, perhaps once in six months, she goes to her apartment at St. Regis Convent, New York.

Old friends are aiding her in her color experiments—friends who worked with her to get lighting effects while she was on the stage.

Lyman Clarke, an attaché of the office of M. P. Rice, vice president of the General Electric Company, is her right-hand man.

"When Miss Adams needs a certain kind of light, Mr. Clark hustles around and gets it for her," says Rice.

Partially Successful.
The interior of the Adams studio is arranged like a small theater. In front and about two feet below the level of a small stage is a very powerful electric light which illuminates the stage for photography.

In the first test Miss Adams made she used real grass, ferns and foliage. The test film was sent to New York and tried out. It is understood her first experiment in color reproducing was partially successful.

ture in the operation of the creamery.

If you are unable to ship carloads then the concentration feature comes in. Having standardized your butter to 92 or better, several creameries in a locality can ship to one central point and through a shipping agent, make up a carload to a distributor at a consuming point, and by so doing obtain a carload rating which is much lower than the less than carload rating. A little advertising and a standard grade of butter maintained, it will not be long until the public will be asking for your butter. Should there be at any time a declining market then the warehouse or storage feature comes in, enabling you to market your product at your convenience or as the market demands. With warehouses and storage facilities, you will not be compelled, as at present, shipping as direct individual shippers, to accept the low market price brought about through non-intelligent marketing principles, causing surplus at consuming points and consequently low market.

Business Men's Warning.
The Commercial Club has received copies of a letter of the Secretary of Lodge #12, Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, Los Angeles, Calif., warning that E. J. Elbury, publisher of a time book which is called the "Official Big-Brotherhood Record" is in no way connected with the Big-4 Brotherhood. The letter claims many western merchants have contributed money under false impression thus created.

In conference with men in Mandan interested in the shipping of cream or of dairy products, E. W. Bennett of St. Paul stressed the concentration at the earliest possible moment of materials into carload lots, and especially protested against a rather common practice of using "The other fellow's cans."

"If the farmer is to continue to feed the public, he must be paid for it," Mr. Bennett told the conference, "and the way to obtain pay is by cooperation, concentration of the small shippers and warehouses. In many cases, concentration of shipping alone will insure the cost of production to the farmer. Cooperation means that you must standardize your product. It also reduces cost and when the consuming public finds out that you are marketing a standard article, your business will increase. Every one of you gentlemen who are interested in a cooperative creamery keep this idea of standardization the principal feature of the committee heads, that of conservation of the natural resources of the state and may have a bearing upon another element of the work of the committee, that of learning and preserving the Indian lore regarding the native foods. While the plan is still new, it has been received with such approbation that it seems likely that something very definite will be worked out in the course of the year.

EVERY FIRE IS LOSS TO PUBLIC SAYS MIDDAGH

Fire Marshal Issues Letter Complaining of Silence in Suspicious Fires

ASKS FOR COOPERATION

State Fire Marshal D. A. Middagh has issued an open letter to the public of North Dakota in which he attempts to show the public that silence when the origin of a fire is suspicious costs the public money through the raising of rates. The letter is addressed to the public at this time because of the recurrence of suspicious fires and because the fire marshal has found, in some quarters, a belief that getting money from the insurance company is adding to the wealth of the community.

The State Fire Marshal's department was created primarily for the purpose of investigation of fires, said Mr. Middagh, "also to act as a buffer between the assured and the insurance companies and to make this buffer more efficient and to assist in functioning; thus furthering your own interests it is your duty, dear public, to impart such information and to give any assistance in your power to help our investigators in arriving at a fair decision between the parties involved in any case under investigation. Every little rumor, no matter how insignificant, may be just the missing link needed to complete the chain of evidence and you owe it only to yourself individually but to the public at large to impart that little bit of information to the investigator, as added to the information obtained from others, it may be just what is needed to definitely place the responsibility—on the insured and on the insurance company.

Difficult to Investigate.
"It is very difficult to come into your community, a stranger, and doubly difficult to come as a known officer from the Fire Marshal's department, and get a frank statement from those interviewed as they do not want to be mixed up in any action that would hurt their business. Now people, let me tell you what I have dreamed—that every town or city appoint a committee of three businessmen who had the welfare of their town at heart and this committee's duty was to inspect the insurance risks—to know who was and who was not over insured; to know who harbored rubbish and dangerous conditions—and this committee, without pay, but were well repaid by the falling off of rates and the public benefited by many dollars with them.

"I dreamed that no insurance company would henceforth place any agency with any person who was a holder of money or who extended credit to any person—thereby putting himself in a position whereby he might be benefited financially should the assured have a fire and collect on risk written by said local agent—to illustrate, I am a bank, I also write insurance—you are a merchant, you are on the verge of failure and you come to me and say I am about all in and my creditors are pushing me for payments. If I should have a fire now, the insurance would no more than cover what I owe the wholesale houses—I guess I had better take out $5,000 more so as to protect you for what I owe you. Would I write it if I were a bank? Well, they're doing it. And then you have a fire—the wholesale house gets theirs. I get mine—you get out of debt, the insurance companies have already got theirs, and eventually you dear public, get yours, only everybody is happy except you because you are the only real loser.

Public is Loser.
"I dreamed that I had a large building, and two doors removed from me was a merchant who had a fire record behind him, and a fire prospect in front of him. I could only insure for 80 per cent of the value of my building, and in case of a loss the company would only pay me 80 per cent of the policy, so eventually I'd only get 64 per cent of the value of the building in case I lost it by fire. Now I was perfectly willing to carry my own risk because I felt secure in doing so, having, as I did, a sprinkling system, and not wanting any fire, being very careful regarding explosives, rubbish, dust accumulations and other conditions conducive to fires, but I was forced to insure against the possibility of my friend of the aristocratic tendencies having a fire and carrying my property along in the holocaust. Is there a remedy? Make every person responsible to the extent of his entire means for a fire originating on his premises. Sounds tough doesn't it? It is tough and it needs just such a tough alternative to make every one so very, very, careful that losses by fire would be almost entirely eliminated. Oh, yes, there was a clause in the law allowing the owner of the premises to pass along the responsibility where he could prove that another person was directly responsible for the fire.

"Every loss by fire is your loss, dear public—every bit of material, either merchandise, lumber or labor, you pay for, no matter where you live, you pay your proportionate share—not the insurance companies, they are merely agencies for the collection of premiums and the payment of losses with your money—so if you wish to economize with your neighbor as well as yourself, tell me your suspicions freely and I assure you this department will endeavor to earn the money appropriated toward its maintenance.

4000 GUESTS AT WEDDING THAT COST $100,000

MR. AND MRS. HENRY SULLIVAN

By NEA Service.
Siddell, La., Feb. 3.—$100,000 for a wedding!
That's what it cost Henry Sullivan, mayor of Bogalusa, and Miss Elaross Salmen of Siddell to get married.

Sullivan is vice president of the Southern Lumber Company. Both his and his wife's parents are among the wealthiest residents in Louisiana.

The event, which took place on the veranda of the Salmen home, under a huge circus tent, smashed all records for elaborateness.

Special trains brought guests from all nearby towns and close to 4,000 people attended. Sullivan arranged for free transportation of all those who were bound for the wedding. Special Pullmans also brought friends and business associates from Buffalo, Chicago, Baltimore and New York.

CINDERELLA BRINGS CHILDREN MILLION

BY ROY GIBBONS
Children of the Famous—These three children, Robert Simpson, 13, Charles Simpson, 11, and Genevieve Simpson, 8, just got a $1,000,000 fortune.

"It was our skill that won it for them," say the lawyers their parents retained.
"It was Cinderella," say the three children.
Now which is right?

You see, eight years ago the children's father, John Simpson, died, leaving them $1,000,000.

But other relatives seized the bequest, maintaining the grandfather was not in sound mind.

The Simpson children's parents started a legal battle.

But as soon as the children were old enough to understand, they employed different tactics.

"We knew a fairy came to Cinderella," Genevieve says. "So we just imagined we were talking to Cinderella and to the godmothers."

For a long time they kept that up. And the lawyers kept up their fight.

Then a court decision giving the children the right to claim their property.

4,500 CLAIMS PAID SOLDIERS IN NO. DAKOTA

Condition of Bonus Fund is Shown in Statement of Industrial Commission

Four and a half thousand claims on the North Dakota Soldiers' Bonus funds had been paid at the end of last year according to the report of the fund by G. A. Fraser, Adjutant General contained in the year's report of the Industrial Commission. Vouchers have been approved for all of the money available, but all of these have not been issued by the State Auditor, leaving a balance in the report of the auditor of $123,555.18. Vouchers to this amount have been paid since the first of the year. Items in the report follow.

Total receipts to fund:
1920 $ 648,132.77
1921 863,923.40
Grand Total $1,512,056.17

"Claims against fund approved by this office and State Auditor's warrants issued" $1,389,475.99.

"Balance to credit of fund as shown by books of the State Auditor on Jan. 1, 1922, $123,555.18."

"On Dec. 31, 1921, the following claims had been filed in the office of the adjutant general:

Complete records, ready for final action 20,995
Military records only filed 3,000
Military records sent out but not returned 1,000
Claims received but not approved 500

"No positive figures can be given except as to the numbered claims for the reason that these vary every day, some being ready for final numbering and others taking their place in the claims in process of completion.

"Claims on Jan. 1, 1922, had been paid up to 4575. When we say 'paid' we mean that the claim has been approved and vouchers sent for execution."

Club Meets with Mrs. Otto Bauer

Nineteen members attended the regular meeting of the Thursday Musical Club at the home of Mrs. Otto Bauer yesterday afternoon.

A very enjoyable program of music of the American Indians was given.

Mr. Jacobson, the leader, covered the subject on Indian music very thoroughly in a most interesting talk.

The musical numbers consisted of songs and illustrative music of the various Indian tribes. Following is the program given:

"By the Waters of Minnstonka" (Sioux Tribe), Lianeance, Mrs. Graham.

Violin Obligato—Mr. McDonald.

Group of Songs (Ojibway Tribe), Burton.

(a) Naked Bear.

(b) Sleepy Time.

(c) My Bark Canoe.

(d) Her Shadow.

Duet, "My Silver Throat" Swan (Sioux), Lianeance, Mrs. Targart.

Mr. Scott.

Grass Dance (Black Feet), Lianeance, illustrated on the Victrola.

"By Weeping Waters" (Chippewa), Lianeance.

A delicious lunch was served at the close of the meeting.

Pictures Are Hung in School

Seven pictures purchased for the new Richholt school were hung in the various school rooms yesterday afternoon with appropriate exercises. Miss Bertha Palmer, deputy state superintendent, talked in each of the seven rooms in which a picture was hung, explaining the pictures and telling of the work of the artists. Mothers of the children had been invited to be present for the exercises and many attended.

In the first grade the "Madonna of the Chair," by Raphael was hung.

Second grade, "Helping Hand," by Renaufr, third grade, "Song of the Lark," by Breton; fourth, "Pilgrims Going to Church," by Boughter; fifth grade, "The Children's Hour," sixth grade, "Sir Galahad," by Watts; seventh grade, "A Reading From Homer," by Alma-Tadema.

The school children are promoting a series of basketball games to raise funds to pay for the pictures. The frames were made in the manual training department of the high school, the pupils of Richholt school to pay actual cost of materials.

ENTERTAIN NEW CLASS.

The junior students of the St. Alexius Hospital Training school are very busy preparing for a party to be given to the January, 1932, members. MEETING IS POSTPONED

The meeting of the Minishoshe Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution which was to have been held at the home of Mrs. C. W. McGray has been postponed until next week on account of the illness of the children of the members of the chapter. The meeting will be held Wednesday, February 8, with Mrs. C. W. McGray.

Miss Irma Logan entertained eleven young ladies at her home last evening in honor of Miss Julia Weber, a bride to be next week. The affair was in the nature of a parcel shower. The evening was spent sewing for the bride-to-be after which dainty refreshments were served by the hostess. The attractive decorations were in keeping with the Valentine season.

Miss Esther Hoover and Miss Mildred Fager entertained a group of young ladies at the James Curran home in honor of Mrs. Arlan Stair, Mrs. Stair, who was married recently, was formerly Miss Margaret Martindale. The affair was in the nature of a miscellaneous shower and the bride received many lovely and useful gifts.

Miss Marion Roan, who has been the guest of Dr. and Mrs. M. W. Roan for the past three weeks, has left for Tacoma, Washington, where she will visit for three weeks before returning to her home at Long Beach, California.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Lenhart entertained at seven o'clock dinner at their home last evening. Covers were laid for sixteen. Following the dinner a pleasant evening was spent playing bridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Richholt entertained a group of their friends at the H. W. Richholt home last evening. Cards were the diversion of the evening. Delicious refreshments were served.

Milton L. Shook of Price, N. D., who has been visiting friends here for several days, left this morning for Lewistown, Penn., where he will visit.

A. R. Middaugh, R. E. Coleman, W. R. Du Puy, R. E. Elliot, William Lancaster and J. S. Fulton, all of Bismarck, are visitors in Fargo today.

Major G. H. Russ and F. E. Copelin have returned from Pendleton, Oregon where they have been on a business trip.

Miss Anna Shevold who was formerly employed in Bismarck but who has been working in Warner, N. D., since fall, was visiting in Bismarck yesterday.

Glen Terom of Warner, N. D., was transacting business in the city today.

Miss Inez Jones, of the city, has gone to Glen Ullin on a business visit.

J. A. Norrin of Menoken, N. D., is a business visitor in the city today.

It was erroneously stated in The Tribune last night through misinformation that a card party had been given at the home of Mr. Harry Clouten Tuesday evening, and that high scores of cards were won by Mrs. A. H. Brown and Dr. H. A. Brandes. Mrs. Clouten states she did not entertain.

Last Monday night Dr. Arnson, in his second "First Aid to the Injured" talk, took up artificial respiration, burns, frostbites, freezing and poisoning. Next Monday the doctor will review the previous talks and take up the bandaging. Each pioneer is recommended to bring two inch rolls bandage and each group should make sure that there will be not less than three or four large triangular bandages in the group.

The Older Boys Congress postponed the talk and the Congress debate, owing to the very severe weather conditions. The discussion "Custom and Habit" will be held next Wednesday, and the debate will be introduced by Barton Muir, Stan Robidou and Berkeley Neff.

The physical program for the week will be:

Saturday—9:30 A. M., high school gym, Young Men's class, 10:30 A. M., Pioneers' class, 3 P. M., Older Boys' Congress—Athletic games.

William Moore school boys at the Richholt gymnasium, Tuesday and Thursday at 4 o'clock. Richholt boys at the Richholt gym Monday and Wednesday at 4 o'clock.

St. Mary's boys at St. Mary's school gym Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Tuesday night at the Richholt school, inter grade school basketball championship games for the F. A. Knowles shield.

ANOTHER FEDERAL JUDGE

Litigants before the federal courts will welcome the settlement of the controversy over the appointment by President Harding of Andrew Miller of Bismarck. The nomination precipitated a vigorous contest against his confirmation. Full rein has been given the opposition and a unanimous report has backed up the findings of the departments of justice which investigated the various allegations and reported to President Harding that none of them had been sustained.

Hearings were held when the nomination went to the United States senate. Witnesses appeared both in opposition and on behalf of Judge Miller. Some matters wholly extraneous to the issues involved were brought before the committee but promptly disposed of.

In face of the vigor of the attack, the complete vindication of Judge Miller is of course pleasing to the many friends and supporters of the Bismarck attorney.

His ability as a judge has still to be shown. Nothing in his official career, however, has been found to discredit him. It has been raked with a fine tooth comb. The investigation began with his service at Forest City, Ia., and was thoroughly pursued through his two terms as attorney general of North Dakota.

Much of the intensity of the fight has been directed against Senator McCumber who sponsored Mr. Miller's appointment and made the fight for him both when the appointment was pending at the White House and after the formal nomination had been announced.

The appointment has been made for life and Mr. Miller will assume his judicial office in the near future. He should be given the earnest cooperation of the bar of the state and the people generally. Undoubtedly he will get just the kind of support to which this high office entitles him. Without judicial experience, his entire record in that capacity has still to be written. That, however, should be no barrier to his career. The Tribune wishes him success in his new office and believes that he will uphold the dignity of the bench and apply justice in North Dakota with fairness and discretion.

Bismarck takes pride in having a leading attorney of the Capital City given one of the highest offices in the nation. His reception should be a cordial one and past animosities can well be forgotten.

CONSCIENCE

Four years ago a man got aboard a ferryboat at San Francisco without paying his fare. Now he sends five cents to the "conscience fund."

Next to one's shadow, conscience is the hardest thing to dodge.

The Southern Pacific's "conscience fund," however, is less than $100 a year. The railroad unquestionably is beaten out of many times that much. Some folks have vocal paralysis of "the still, small voice."

PRICE

A price cut averaging 22 per cent is announced in the window glass trade by the largest American manufacturer.

This is the result of foreign competition. A price war is on between importers and our own manufacturers.

A tariff would keep the price up—which has advantages and disadvantages, depending on what side of the fence you are on, consumer or producer.

FEMALE

In our country, 2,090,212 more males than females, counting every one from babies up.

But figures on people 15 years or older show the males leading by only 1,713,148.

In youth, mortality must be higher among boys than girls.

The surplus of women explains why so many of them have gone into the business world. All women prefer marriage and the home in their subconscious minds.

HANDICAP

Helen Keller and Willetta Huggins, both of them blind and deaf, meet at Madison, Wisconsin. They converse with each other, using fingertips on face and chest to receive vocal sounds.

velous things in the world, but nothing so wonderful as the adaptability of a human being."

All handicaps can be overcome by will power.

MARRIED

Can you explain this? The census reports that 21,849,266 males and 21,318,983 females, 15 years of age or older, in America are married.

Do a little subtraction and it appears that 530,333 women must have two husbands each.

Error? No. The situation is, that about half a million foreign-born American residents haven't brought their wives from the old country.

SHORTAGE

Sheep in America decreased from 52,500,000 head in 1910 to 35,000,000 in 1920. The Senate hears this, through its tariff committee, from the National Sheep and Wool Bureau of America.

Decrease in sheep raising has been largely due to falling off in consumption of virgin wool. Wool, chewed up and used over and over as shoddy, will be a boomerang on clothing manufacturers later, in the form of a shortage of virgin wool.

POISON

Lodgers in a New York rooming house heard shouts for help. They broke down a door and found Robert Doyle, 35 years old, groping about the floor. His right hand was over his eyes and he kept repeating, "I'm blind. Can't see."

Doyle died in a hospital. "Another victim of wood alcohol," said the doctor.

When Doyle drank the stuff, he was sure it was "safe." There is no safe whisky except on doctor's prescription.

"WHITE MULE"

A coroner's jury at Paris, Ill., decides that Farmer Howard Gwinn was killed by drinking home-made whisky, better known as "white mule."

Moonshine liquor, unless triple distilled, is a poison. It is not fit to drink until it has aged in the cask at least seven years. That is why, in the old days, a bartender in a "high class" saloon always apologized if he had to serve whisky less than seven years old.

What are you drinking, under a counterfeit label?

A NEW DEVICE

If mother refuses to get excited about the new French cabinet or the resignation of Will Hays or the tariff on wool—

Maybe it's because she's been reading Popular Mechanics and learned that an inventor claims to have perfected a sewing machine attachment that will darn socks.

There may be greater problems in the world than the mending and darning in a family with several 220-volt boys and a pa who runs 'em through fast at heel and toe. But man can put up a good argument to the contrary. And the men-folks would side with her if they had to ply the needle a while.

Most of us fret and fume about big international and economic problems which, in the long run, can be solved only by time. The real problems, the important ones, are in the home.

And ma has to tackle most of them alone.

EDITORIAL REVIEW

PROSPERITY AND THE FARMER

The analysts and the prophets announce that prosperity will be on the way back when the farmer begins buying again. When the farmer is not in the market, mills shut down, factories cut to part time, railway equipment stands idle in the yards, and all trade stagnates. Without the farmer with a bank roll the people perish.

Here, then, is still another evidence of the importance of the man who wrings nature's bounty from her and passes it on to his brother within the city's gate.

Eric C. Hopwood in the World's Work for February.

THE TIME FOR OUR LIFT

If the United States demands payment of its foreign debt it will crush the world into immediate bankruptcy, Senator P. J. McCumber, chairman of the finance committee, declared in opening debate on the foreign debt refunding bill in the senate late today.

"We either fought a war for humanity—or we didn't," Senator McCumber said. "If we did, let us remember that our allies went through three years of hell before we got into it."

"Then for God's sake, let us not play the role of Shylock."

We agree with Senator McCumber. We sometimes hear it said that the United States did not suffer in the War. What is meant by that is that, in comparison with Britain and France, we did not suffer. The death roll did not reach us in numbers proportionate to our size as compared with Britain or France.

Therefore, why isn't it the plain duty of the United States to take the burden of this debt as to time and let it ride. If we were to enforce payment to the point of getting it, we do not think Senator McCumber has overstated the case—the world would be bankrupt.—Minneapolis Journal.

ICY BLASTS CHILL BARE FEET OF TENT COLONY BABIES

By Ruth Abeling
Nolan, W. Va., Feb. 1—Under the conditions that exist across the tent colony, flaunting the very thinness of its rugs, stands the Foley tent.
The Foley family is one of the scores that were forced to abandon company houses as the result of Mingo county mine labor troubles and now compelled to live in tents in the dead of winter.
The Foleys have been married seven years. They have three children. They're living on $6.75 a week, an allotment from the United Mine Workers of America.
Mrs. Foley, before her marriage, was a farmer's daughter, back in the Kentucky hills. She's tall, straight, slim of body, blond.
For two years now she's been a tent colony woman—one of that grim band settled on a gray, frozen level stretch where the black Tug river winds sinuously through the hills.
I approached the Foley tent and spoke to Mrs. Foley.
Annie Foley, her child hanging on one arm, merely looked at me.
"Pretty cold, isn't it?" I ventured.
"My husband, he'll talk to you."

PEOPLE'S FORUM

Editor The Tribune
The Remains of the Home
Is the old fashioned home gone for ever? With but very few exceptions the home of today does not mean what it once did. At one time it meant the birth place; where you and I were born and grew up, and a place to return to, when the world had used us ill.
It was the place where most of the things we ate and wore were grown and made. It was where the things that made life worth while were gathered together and enjoyed. And it was the place where our nearest and dearest closed their eyes in sleep forever. Today in most cases the home means only a place where we eat and sleep when all goes well with us. It is a skeleton of its former glory that takes most of the work and energy to maintain without its paying very much back in return.
Today the large hospital is the birth place of the coming generation.
The politician of the future will have to say he was born in a hospital instead of the present time with some who want to catch the farmer not by saying he was born on a farm.
The hospital is also the place where we go when the world has bruised and broken us and made us ill. It is also where our nearest and dearest close their eyes in sleep forever in the modern age.
The preparation of food and clothing for use, that formerly was done in the home, is now socialized in factories, canneries, bakeries and laundries. The home was where most of the moral and spiritual training was received. But today, to a very big extent, that is more socialized than ever before in the public school and church if they receive any at all. The entertaining of our friends is fast being commercialized in the form of theater parties and public dances.
The remains of the home costs more to maintain than ever before, and it has been robbed of all the sentimentalities that makes us want to return to Home Sweet Home, no matter how humble.
In the modern age the ties that have bound the home together in the past have now been socialized and commercialized to a point where we can no longer maintain the remains of the home on the basis that people are now struggling to do.
I will try and give an idea of what I believe the reconstructed home will have to be like to meet the needs of this modern age in an article later.

BEAUTY PRIZE WINNER MAKES SCREEN DEBUT
One of the five girls whom Paul Hellen, the famous French artist, lectured as the most beautiful American, appears in O. W. Griffith's newest dramatic comedy, "Dream Street," to be shown at the Capital theater, beginning Monday.
She is Katherine Ardell, eighteen years old, of Irish parentage, and declared by Hellen to be the most perfect expression of Irish beauty that the world today can produce.
In form and face, she is described as perfect. Her hair is dark, her eyes a wise glorious blue, her features even and free from sharpness, her body slender with girlhood curves.
Hellen came to America last winter to paint the five most beautiful girls here for the purpose of hanging the paintings in the National Gallery of France, that the French might appreciate the distinctive beauty that America produces in her womanhood. Miss Ardell is seventeen years old.
She was selected by Mr. Griffith to play an important part in "Dream Street," as a girl whose face expresses noble and pure beauty associated with the good things of the spirit as well as the flesh. She appears in the scenes

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

By Olive Barton Roberts

A queer thing happened when Buskins and the Twins arrived in the strange new country above the clouds on their dandelion parachutes. The little dandelion parachutes (or seeds) suddenly became alive and Nancy and Nick saw that they had kind bright faces, and arms and legs and feet.

"Will you please excuse us now," said the little seeds. "We are going to Mother Nature's school and we are afraid that we'll be late."

"Oh, yes indeed!" said Nancy politely. "Go right along. I'm sorry if we've kept you. And thank you for bringing us."

"That's all right," they answered, hurrying off.

"We're going to visit your school," said Buskins. "and if you are late, I'll tell Mother Nature all about it." Then to the children, "I'll tell you more about this place as we go along. You see, Mother Nature has a school here for the little seeds that fly, so they'll know how to grow. Many of the seeds have wings, you know, or something just as good, that they can fly with like your parachutes. The dandelion seeds are only one kind."

"There are also the thistle-seeds, the milk-weed seeds, and the seeds of many kinds of trees and flowers. Some other seeds fly in a different way. They have jaggers on them and stick to the birds' wings and feathers. When the birds fly, the seeds hang on until they come to a place where they wish to grow, then they drop off."

"But here we are now, at the gate of Mother Nature's school. Come on, let us go in. I'm sure we are welcome. Mother Nature isn't easily disturbed and she'll be glad to see us."

Buskins opened the gate and they all walked into a large garden where little seeds sat at desks.

COMPLETION OF WAR HISTORY BY MAY 30 IS AIM

Goal is Set For Compiling Burleigh County Records of the War, by Chairman

WHAT OTHERS ARE DOING

Many Organizations in Various Parts of State Working on County Histories

Completion of the Burleigh County War History by May 30, is the goal set by Mrs. R. H. ... county chairman in a letter to the several vice-chairmen named for the work which is under the North Dakota War History Commission.

Co-operation and assistance of citizens of Burleigh county is necessary in the history as to be completed by that time it is emphasized. Already two counties in the state have completed their war history museums and have had in the history ...

planned to have the county war museum in a section of the city library reserved for that purpose. The history of the county will include a record of each soldier, sailor and marine from the county in the World War, record of the Liberty Loan drives and other civilian activities which helped to make Burleigh county known as one of the strongest counties in the state in the preservation of the war.

What Others Have Done.

Mrs. Charles E. Amundson of Fargo, member of the state committee, writing of the accomplishments in some counties says:

Wells county dedicated her war museum with appropriate exercises, including an address by Dr. Levi H. ... the ... school, who talked upon Citizenship and Americanization. A room in the court house was set aside for the war trophies.

Henson county, Mrs. Amundson writes, has many valuable trophies in the collection, including one of the secret German trench diggers and a knife bayonet. Many photographs, some of them contributed by soldiers who were in France and others taken from newspapers and other sources, are included.

Golden Valley county has completed a Red Cross history. In Griggs county the trophy collection is going forward splendidly. One of the exhibits is a Bible carried through battles on four sectors.

Morton county has a full committee and is working under a carefully thought-out plan Mrs. Amundson reports.

Ellendale's Idea.

Ellendale's idea for a Red Cross exhibit is highly praised. Miss Fleming, of Ellendale, says:

"We are also going to have an exhibit of articles made by the Red Cross during the war, one sample of each garment made. It may be we will be so fortunate as to secure one of each of the hospital garments from the Red Cross headquarters. If it is not possible to secure the yarn goods there, we happen to have quite a supply of yarn still here and that can be utilized in the making of these garments. A picture of Camp Greene, North Carolina, has been promised; a copy of the Stars and Stripes, a piano scarf made by some French seamstress, a number of pictures, two helmets, and a number of newspaper articles."

Adding in the work in Burleigh county, who would be glad to receive any suggestions or aid in the compilation of the history are: Mrs. G. H. ... Mrs. N. R. ... Mrs. C. J. ... Mrs. P. C. ... Mrs. P. L. ... Mrs. P. R. ...

The annual ball of the Brotherhood of American Yeomen will be a Valentine affair at Patterson's Hall on the evening of February 14th. An extra effort is being made to make this the gala event of the winter season.

225 "MURDER" DEFENDANTS, 6 LOSE LIVES

Cook County, Illinois, Including City of Chicago, Issues "Crime" Report

FEW DEATH SENTENCES

Chicago, Feb. 3.—Less than one out of four of all the defendants tried for murder during 1921 in Cook county, which includes the city of Chicago, were convicted according to the report of the committee on statistics of this Chicago crime commission, made public here today.

Out of 31 cases and 34 defendants charged with manslaughter, only one defendant received a sentence to a penal institution, according to the report, which notes: "This indicates that a man has 34 chances to one of being convicted, 97 per cent escaping punishment."

In cases involving 225 defendants charged with murder there were only six death sentences. One of these was in the case of Thomas O'Connor, now a fugitive from justice, the report says.

The reports add:

MOSCOW IS WIDE OPEN CITY NOW

Headquarters For Thefts, Hold Ups, Disease, Disaster, Speculation and Drinking

Moscow, Feb. 3.—This city has become a wide open town for the first time in its modern history. It is open for business, for thefts, for hold-ups, for fun, for disease and disaster, for speculation, for drinking, for any and all things man, or woman, may devise.

The old timers of the staid pre-war regime can't recognize anything but the snow. It used to be, before the war, a sort of country, family town, as compared to the gayer skylarking of St. Petersburg.

During the revolutions, it lost this friendly aspect of quiet and, as the Soviet settled down here, it became strictly moral and severe, with only the grand opera to lighten the load of propaganda and thousands of orders on how to live and prosper and be happy, notwithstanding closed shops, lack of bread and medicine and clothes.

A Russian tip Van Winkle, who had slept during the past three years, wouldn't know the town these days. Church bells ring out for prayers. Communists and bourgeoisie, peasants and princesses are all scrambling for more money that they may not fall into the abyss of famine. Cabmen are fighting for higher rates, grain dealers for more rubles per bushel, bakers for more per pound, candy and cookery shops are blooming out on every corner, wine and vodka are sold in millinery shops and the 80 policemen of the town have long since quit bothering with footpads.

FINED FOR ASSAULT

Carrington, N. D., Feb. 3.—Edwin Lowery was fined $20 and costs in justice court here for assaulting Henry Hargels, hotel proprietor. Hargels claimed he began to talk over rentals upon land owned by Lowery's mother, with a view to settlement, but that she locked the door and that the son hit him several times.

No Disappointments

Millions of housewives use Calumet Baking Powder because of its dependability—because when they place their baking in the oven, they know it will "turn out" all right. They are confident of results because they know that no matter what they bake—pies, cakes, biscuits, muffins—the results will be the same—light, perfectly raised, wholesome foods.

CALUMET BAKING POWDER

never disappoints. Don't prepare bakings with expensive ingredients and then have them spoiled because of an inferior leavener.

Have the same assurance that the majority of other housewives have.

A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 ounces. Some baking powders come in 12 ounce instead of 16 ounce cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.
